Mallorca

Mallorca is the largest of the popular Balearic Islands. The Balearic Islands are situated in the Mediterranean Sea, to the south west of the Iberian Peninsula and are one of the most important holiday destinations in Europe.

With a fantastic and wide selection of nightlife to choose from, you will not be disappointed as the best leisure and entertainment can be found within each resort. With a typically Mediterranean climate, where the sun shines for more than 300 days a year and the average temperature reaches 14° in winter and 27° in summer, the island becomes the ideal destination to play football all year round. Modern sports facilities with artificial grass pitches allow keen footballers to spend their holiday playing their favourite sport:

FOOTBALL

Playa De Palma

If you want white sandy beaches and crystal clear waters, then a stay in Playa De Palma will fit the bill perfectly. This 6km stretch of coastline runs from C'an Pastilla to El Arenal and is one long unbroken sandy beach. If you're looking for family friendly beach holidays, Playa De Palma holds the Blue Flag, and with a beach that shelves gently into the sea is great for children. If you enjoy active holidays, Playa De Palma beach has a wide range of water sports on offer including sailing, water skiing and scuba diving. By night you'll find many excellent restaurants along the sea front, where you can dine while watching the sunset over the sea. If the nightlife is an important part of your holiday, Playa De Palma offers a variety of bars and restaurants, and El Arenal along the coast has a great choice of clubs where you can dance the night away.
